Langdon House offers you an experience to remember, the perfect place to base yourself in New Zealand's beautiful South Island. Langdon House is so convenient to the Central City with all Christchurch has to offer, just minutes away from restaurants, galleries, theatres, shopping and the rich experiences of the Garden City. Langdon House also offers easy access to all the key routes to the Island's main tourist destinations.

Superb tranquil setting

Langdon House is set in park-like gardens of over 3200 sq.m full of native plants, trees and birds. Across the stream boundary is a reserve, privacy and tranquillity are assured. Guests are invited to enjoy the gardens, whether reading a book in a shady spot under the silver birches or having a cup of tea and home made cake on the deck. There are lots of opportunities to relax and unwind.

Large, luxurious rooms

At Langdon House we have spacious rooms, with King-size beds, fresh crisp linen, plush soft furnishing and fabulous views of the gardens. Luxurious bathrooms with under floor heating, showers with massage nozzles, large demist mirrors, soft bathrobes and a double spa bath complete the picture. The delightful guest lounge is a special place to unwind and chat, whether over a glass of wine or a cup of coffee, our guests always enjoy generous hospitality.

The personal touch

Your hosts John and Annie invite you to join them in getting to know New Zealand a little better. Enjoy the friendliness and informative experience that is Langdon House hosting. Our evening nibbles with a glass or two of New Zealand wine gives guests a chance to discover the real New Zealand from people who live and work there. Your hosts will make your stay a truly personal experience.

You don't need to be royalty to be treated like one at Langdon House. Indulge yourself in a breakfast experience either in the conservatory style dining room or outside in the sunshine. Using the finest fresh local produce and home-made ingredients, Annie's inspired menu offers new angles on favorite dishes.
